More Than Double Present U. S. Army Strength This Year

Expansion To Give 3,600,000 Officers And Men

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson announced today the army had started expanding to approximately 3,600,000 officers and men, more than doubling its present strength in ground and air forces.

Stimson said the increase, authorized by President Roosevelt, would be made this year, with the first three new divisions to be organized by March 25.

Looking to further increases of undisclosed size next year, camp facilities are to be expended in the meanwhile.

Double Air Forces

The expansion, announced at a press conference, calls for more than double the number of air combat units.

Creation of 32 motorized or triangular divisions, in addition to the 27 conventional ground troop divisions now in service, and doubling the number of armored units.

A proportionate increase in the anti-aircraft, engineer and similar special units.

Formation of 50 or more military police battalions to replace troops now guarding critical facilities in continental United States.

To Commission Officers

A large increase in the number of men in training centers to provide replacement for all organized units and the personnel for "the additional units to be created in the spring of 1943."

As a part of the vast expansion, Stimson announced at the same time, 75,000 officers will be commissioned in special officer candidate schools this year and requirements for air force pilots bombardiers and navigators had been lowered from 20 to 18 years. Married men now also may train as fliers, and intelligence tests have been substituted for educational requirements.

Stimson said the army increase called for a vast expansion also of housing and training facilities which he added, has already been started.

The army now is building nine new camps to accommodate 30,000 men each, he said. All training centers are being expanded to accommodate an additional 200,000. In addition, five temporary camps are being setup.

"In this way we hope to be able to house all the men inducted and left in the continental United States by the time the last men are inducted," Stimson said.

Some May Be Out Of U. S.

"By that time some divisions may be out of the United States, making their quarters also available."

The war secretary noted the expansion had been started well in advance of peacetime schedules for wartime increases.

"One plan provided that the first three new divisions beyond existing regular and national guard units should be organized by 160 days after M day (mobilization day)," he said.

"If we consider M day to have been December 7, the first three divisions thus will be created some 50 days ahead of schedule."

Stimson said commanders of all the new division had been assigned and training cadres were being organized.

All preparations have been made to set up the first three divisions by March 25.

"The increase is based on the same balance we have tried to observe in the past," the secretary observed.

Asked whether the expansion was geared to procurement of munitions, he said he noted the United States was undertaking to supply other nations as well as its own armed forces.

Officer training for enlisted men in the army has been expanded since last July to give instruction to 90,000 candidates instead of the initial annual rate of 10,000.

For men possessing the necessary qualifications, the war department said induction as a pri-

Defense Inquiry Body Is Critical Over 'Red Tape'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—

The Senate Defense Investigating committee charged today that American war production had been hampered seriously by months of official bungling, labor selfishness and management greed.

In a report covering its studies during last year the committee accused government agencies of slowing war output by a mesh of "bureaucratic red tape" and declared:

1. That after two years of frantic effort America has too few planes to allow adequate flying time for its pilots and that many of them are "mediocre."

2. That dollar-a-year men on loan from industry were actually lobbyists for their former employers and should be eliminated.

3. That the automobile industry had been allowed to continue civilian production virtually unchecked throughout 1941, with no real conversion to military production even attempted.

4. That a concerted effort should be made to use all the facilities of small manufacturers in defense production.

Expressing full confidence that the war could be won if proper remedial steps were taken, the committee asked a reorganization

Patriotic Talk To Kiwanians

Some of the activities relating to the defense council, work accomplished and work to be done, was outlined by Ellsworth Green, lieutenant in the Fourth Missouri Infantry, speaking before the Sedalia Kiwanis club at its meeting in Bothwell Hotel this noon. He also gave a brief history of the Fourth Infantry.

The speaker was presented by Program Chairman Rev. O. J. Rumpf. Major Eugene Hansman, commanding officer of the guard unit, spoke about the proper salutes to the flag and the proper manner of displaying it.

Tom Mullaley, St. Louis, was a guest of R. W. Cook.

Next week the local club will observe the 27th anniversary of Kiwanis International. The program is being prepared by Ed McLaughlin, chairman of the education committee, and 100% attendance will be promoted by R. W. Cook, chairman of the attendance committee.

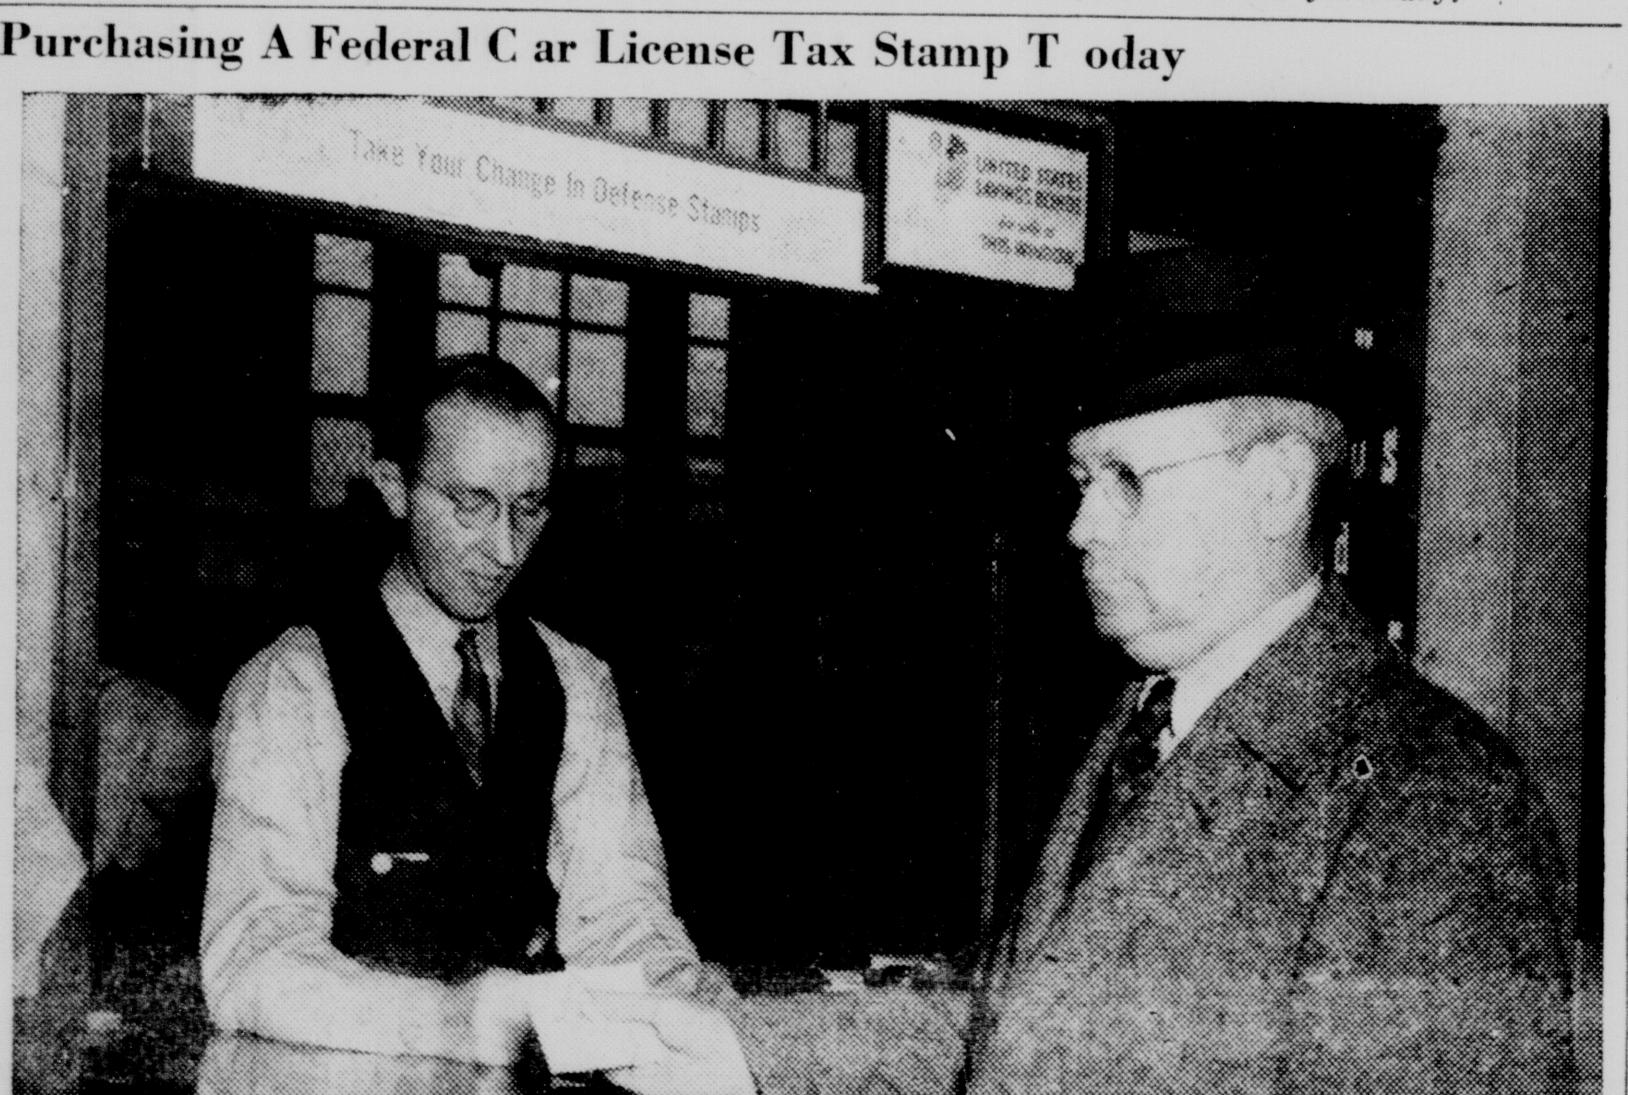

The club's attention was called to contributions being received by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in connection with the 60th birthday anniversary celebration for President Roosevelt.

Says Robins Mean Spring Is Here

Spring is here. One robin may not really mean the cold weather is over, but certainly several robins mean the coming of spring, and that is what has happened.

A Sedalia woman reports she first saw one robin on December 21, and it remained. Then this morning five robins made their appearance, and indications are they are here to stay.

U S Submarine Sinks Big Ship Navy Reports

Liner of 17,000 Tons Of Japanese To The Bottom

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—

The navy announced today that a 17,000-ton Japanese merchant liner had been sunk by an American submarine.

The vessel was of the fast Yawata class, owned and operated by the NYK lines, and probably convertible into an aircraft carrier.

No other details of the sinking were supplied.

The navy said also in a communique:

"The menace of enemy submarines off the east coast of the United States remains substantial."

A navy spokesman said at least one vessel of the Yawata class of three ships, frequent visitors to west coast ports, had been converted into an aircraft carrier, but it was not known whether this was the one sent to the bottom.

The communique, untimed, read:

"Far East:
A 17,000-ton Japanese merchant ship of the Yawata class has been sunk by an American submarine.

"The menace of enemy submarines off the east coast of the United States remains substantial."

"There is nothing to report from other Atlantic areas."

Called Three Graces

The three Yawata class ships are called the "Three Graces of the NYK" and are among the finest and newest ships of the Japanese merchant fleet. Their names are Yawata Maru, Nitta Maru and Kasuga Maru.

The first two were constructed in 1939 and the Kasuga was under construction last year and may have been the one converted into an aircraft carrier.

The ships have a passenger capacity of 300 each and a listed speed of 22 knots although they undoubtedly are faster, as Japan usually conceals such ship statistics.

Sinking of the liner raised to eleven the total of enemy vessels sent to the bottom by American submarine action in the Far East.

The ten vessels previously reported sunk by American submarine craft were five transports, three cargo vessels, a supply vessel and a minesweeper. Three other Japanese ships a destroyer, a transport and a seaplane tender have been reported "probably lost" by submarine action.

The reference to the Atlantic submarine menace was tied to the torpedoing early yesterday of the Panamanian liner Norness off Long Island in the closest approach of warfare to the nation's east coast.

The navy spokesman who said it was possible that the now-sunk liner had been converted into an aircraft carrier said it also was considered possible that it might have been in service as a transport.

The 300 tons allowed for passenger cars camelback this month would produce enough to retread or recap about 672,000 tires. Government officials have estimated, however, that the normal demand approximates between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 new tires a month.

In the face of such a demand, officials predicted, three courses ultimately would be open to OPM: sufficient crude rubber could be made available to fill all retreading needs, the supply of camelback could be shut off entirely, or retreads and retreading materials could be rationed.

In view of the rubber shortage, the first course would be impossible, they said, and the second would result in excessive hardship, leaving

Back Pay Of $62,400 At Shops

Twelve hundred employees of the Missouri Pacific shops, that number including all departments, will receive a total amount of $62,400 in back pay Friday. The men will receive the increases in wages that became effective in September, and Friday's pay is for September, October and November. December's increases was included in the last pay checks.

The average received is $52 per man, after the three per cent pension payment is deducted.

Nelson's Wife Thinks Good Man Is Picked For Job

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—(AP)—There's a woman in suburban Glencoe who believes the President could not have picked a better man than Donald M. Nelson to direct the nation's wartime industrial production.

She is Mrs. Helen Nelson, his wife.

"Of course, I am now war defense orphan number one," she said with a smile. "But women must learn to make sacrifices. I am not complaining at all. As a matter of fact, I do not consider my personal case a sacrifice."

"Some women give their country their sons; others give both husbands and sons. To me it is, indeed, an honor and a privilege to give my husband to my country. I wish I had sons to give."

Nelson's appointment as supreme chief of the war production program was announced yesterday, but Frederick, the Nelsons' butler, was still ushering in today friends who had called to offer congratulations.

To Stay In Chicago

Mrs. Nelson said she intended to stay in her 14 room house on Chicago's north shore while her husband wrestled with the problems of airplanes, tanks and ships in Washington.

During the year and a half that her husband, formerly executive vice president of Sears Roebuck, has been in the capital, she firmly refused to establish a home there.

"If I move there," she explained, "social functions will rob him of his precious time, so much needed by the government. I only hope his health may be preserved. Until now he has been working 16 hours a day, and no one knows how many hours he'll put in from now on."

When Nelson finishes his job and the war is won, his wife said, they hope to buy a farm, raise cattle and horses, and take life easy.

The text of the attack's communiqué No. 60, based on reports received here up to 9:30 a. m., Central Standard Time today:

"1. Philippine theater:

"Nine heavy Japanese bombers attacked the fortification on Corregidor Island on Manila bay. Two were shot down by our anti-aircraft artillery and others were hit. Damage to fortifications and casualties among our troops were slight.

"Aggressive enemy ground activity continues, with attempts at general infiltration all along the line. Although greatly outnumbered, American and Philippine troops are holding well-prepared positions with courage and determination.

"2. There is nothing to report from other areas."

Japan's resort to a ruthless firing squad rule for the conquered areas of the Philippines gave the capital pointed evidence meanwhile that fifth column of Filipino patriots is at work for General MacArthur behind the invader's lines.

Information Secured

MacArthur's communiques for some days past have shown that he was able to secure prompt information on what was happening in enemy-held territory, but it remained for Tokyo to acknowledge the effectiveness of this undercover intelligence service by invoking the death penalty.

Soon after Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor, Washington sent word through the Swiss government that the American government would live up to the prisoners' pact and provide good treatment, food and prison camp quarters for all Japanese captured.

Although Japan's delegates had signed the convention adopted by 47 nations at Geneva in 1929 the pact was never ratified by the Japanese government. The pledge made — through the Swiss government — was the first official information received concerning the treatment to be accorded American prisoners of war in the Far East.

Relays of British and Dutch fighter planes, however, battled raiders over the Singapore area, using rain clouds for concealment.

The people of Singapore and Johore—the only one of the nine Malay States not occupied or penetrated on any considerable scale by the Japanese—have been brought face to face with the full Japanese threat by the simple official notification that delivery of Malayan mail could be assured only for destinations in Singapore or Johore.

Report Japanese On Island

(The British new agency, Exchange Telegraph, recorded today a Rome broadcast quoting a Tokyo report that Japanese forces had landed on an island of the Rho group, just south of Singapore, and that the town of Endau, just north of the Johore border, about 100 miles north of Singapore, had been outflanked.

The northernmost island of the Rho group is separated from Singapore only by the narrow Singapore strait.

(Official broadcasts from Tokyo said that Japanese troops, forging down the west side of the Malay peninsula, crossed into Johore last night, occupied the railway junction of Gemas and "completely encircled" about 30,000 soldiers defending that approach toward Singapore.

The drive southward along the east coast was said by the Japanese to have reached Pekan on the mouth of the Pahang river, 130 miles from Johore strait, part of the water barrier about Singapore island.)

Expect 280,000 In State Register

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 15.—(AP)—Selective service headquarters today predicted 280,000 Missourians 20 through 44 years old will register Feb. 14, 15 and 16 in the nation's third inventory of military manpower.

"National headquarters estimated that this group will be approximately 60 per cent of the registration of Oct. 16, 1940 when 445,000 Missourians registered, of the Office of Production Management to do away with the "dollar-a-year" officials. This recommendation was already in type Tuesday when President Roosevelt announced reorganization of the war production system with Donald M. Nelson, former mail order executive, at the helm.

Resources Will Win

Made public by Chairman Truman (D-Mo.), the report warned that:

"Carelessness and inefficiency have already cost us a great deal and, if continued, can cost us much more, even though in the long run we will win the war because of the sheer extent of our resources."

The committee said prospects for future airplane production were "not too good" and added that radical changes in methods must be made to meet the military demand.

"Apparently, there never has been and is not now any real planned and coordinated program for the production of aircraft," the report said.

"Our services (the army and navy) have merely purchased what the manufacturers had to offer instead of planning to use available facilities to produce what they needed at maximum capacity."

The committee reported that the army and navy, "always x x x extremely reluctant to accept and develop new ideas," were tardy in adopting multiple machine guns, bullet-proof gasoline tanks, modern gun turrets and other war-time aviation developments.

The committee complained that 19 "favored manufacturers" of airplanes had received the bulk of orders and loans, with 60 other aircraft companies unable to get any substantial contracts.

For OPM Reorganization

In asking reorganization of the OPM, the committee said that "The practice of diffusing responsibility commonly referred to as 'the old army game' must not be tolerated." It said that as of January 5 there were 255 dollar-a-year men working for the OPM, and 631 others employed without compensation.

Because they dealt "with matters involving the class of clients by whom they were formerly employed and by whom they naturally expect to be employed in the future," the report said, they could be termed lobbyists "in a very real sense."

"The committee believes that the government should not continue to accept the loan of dollar-a-year and W.O.C. (without compensation) men by companies with so large a stake in the defense program x x x 'No man can honestly serve two masters.'

In a separate section reporting evidence of lobbying for government contracts, the committee said that often contractors seek "to take unfair advantage of their government" by attempting to purchase influence which they fail to get.

Observing that the defense program has been handicapped by unnecessary strikes, the committee reported that there was currently less obstruction from this source than in an earlier period.

In urging greater use of the facilities of small manufacturers, the committee reported an "in-grained distrust of the small manufacturers" on the part of some procurement officials.

Discussing the current efforts of the government to convert the bulk of the automobile industry to defense production, the committee said the competitive position of the industry had been "vastly improved by the war" and that "in plain language the conversion job was not even started well."

Production "Disappointing"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—A special senate committee investigating the national defense program reported today it had found actual production of lead, copper and zinc "most disappointing."

Discussing those three non-ferrous metals, the committee, of which Senator Truman (D-Mo.) is chairman, declared that the office of production management "failed to realize the necessity of increasing the production of copper, lead and zinc until long after the probability of shortage was apparent."

Furthermore, the report stated, the OPM "did not then, and has not yet taken adequate steps to increase the production so as to assure (1) sufficient quantities for military use and, (2) as great a quantity as possible for the civilian economy."

The report said the OPM "should have acted much more expeditiously in this matter, instead of taking the position that there could never be a shortage of materials and that small business by the thousands would not have to close their doors and discharge their employees for lack of materials with which to operate."

The committee found that "the least that the government owed to such businessmen and their employees was an early and vigorous attempt to increase the production of the materials upon which they were dependent."

"This duty," the report added, "was not fulfilled."

The OPM took its first formal step to increase copper production last July, the report continued, when 12 large producers were invited to attend a conference at which "they merely discussed orally, in a general way, plans for increases in production, some of which were more or less specific."

The committee said it had testimony from an OPM copper branch representative that he could "recall no instance in which the office of production management had approved any application by a small or intermediate producer of copper for government assistance for two or three hundred thousand dollars or less."

"In fact," the report continued, "it was informally stated to committee investigators that when the extent of the shortage of copper was realized in July, 1941, the necessity for action was so imperative that the office of production management did not have time to give attention to the small producers or to the opening of small mines or * * * those which had been closed down."

The committee agreed with an OPM statement that mine labor generally was entitled to higher wages than those of pre-war years.

"The miners can not be expected to stay in the mines when defense projects, such as camps and ordnance plants, are being constructed in the same general area at wages set by the department of labor that are far in excess of the wages being paid in the mines," it said.

The report urged that recommendations by miners' representatives be "checked," with both labor and industry. Decisions should be made by the government, said the committee, explaining it did not take the position "that labor should dictate to industry."

He was after those quail and ducks now, but he has a big job at hand.

Tinker was born at Pawhuska, Oklahoma. He attended Wentworth Military Academy in Missouri, played end on the academy football team and took part in many other sports.

When he was graduated he was snapped up by the Philippine constabulary which was looking for men of his type. He spent four years in the islands. In 1912 he returned to the United States as a second lieutenant and was transferred in that grade to the army.

The next year he came to Hawaii and was married here Oct. 8, 1913.

Served On Border

In 1917 he returned to the main land and served with the 18th Infantry regiment on the Mexican border. He was with the 62nd and 35th Infantry and the 65th Depot Brigade during the first World War, but did not get to France. In 1920 he was promoted to major, and it was in that year he turned to a first love—flying.

"I wanted to fly years before," he said, "but there was a rule against a married officer flying without a voluntary certificate from his wife. I couldn't get the two together, then," he added grinning.

He graduated from the air service pilots' observation and technical schools, and broadened his military education at the command and general staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., and in 1926 was ordered to London as assistant military attache.

Awarded Medal

During a practice flight near London, General Tinker rescued an American naval officer from the burning wreckage of a plane. Despite his own injuries, Tinker dragged his companion from the cockpit, ripped the burning parachute from the naval officer's back, then fell unconscious.

For this act of heroism, Tinker was awarded the soldier's medal.

Returning to the United States in 1907, Tinker went into the office of the chief of the air corps. His later posts included assistant commander at Kelly Field, Tex., commanding officer at Mather Field, Calif., and commander of pursuit and bombardment units at March Field and Hamilton Field in California.

In 1935 he was made a lieutenant colonel and in 1940 attained his present grade. On Oct. 1, 1940, he was designated an air corps wing commander with the Third bombardment wing at Tampa, Fla., and in November, 1941, was put in charge of the Third Interceptor command of the Third Air Force base at Drew Field, Fla.

General Tinker, in 1935, led the first mass flight to be made across the continent in less than 24 hours. His 33 planes flew from March Field, Calif., to Vero Beach, Fla., in 21 hours and 15 minutes.

Certificates For Tires Issued

The Sedalia Tire rationing board this afternoon issued certificates for the following tires:

Henry Duffield, route 3, Hughesville, one tire and one tube, obsolete.

Sarah Bakert, 1426 East Broadway, one tire, obsolete.

Henry Blaine, 400 West Main, two truck tires.

John Duffield, route 4, one tire, obsolete.

Arnold Edward Blaine, 1516 West Main, two tires and 1 tube.

The Pettis County Women's Democratic Club will meet at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herman Myers, 213 West

Enos W. Floyd, route 2, Green Ridge, two tires, obsolete.

Two certificates were refused because the car owners failed to establish, in the opinion of the board, a need for a tire.

There were seventeen inspectors at a meeting, called for 1:30 o'clock, at which time the manner of filling out the certificates was explained.

Three new inspectors were named, William Neumeyer, Edgar Arnold and U. L. Howerton.

men had been rescued and were in "good shape."

The Norness was still partially afloat today — her bow sticking almost vertically out of the water — and Admiral Kalbfus notified the navy department that the vessel constituted a menace to navigation.

The torpedoing occurred at 12:20 a.m. (CST) on Wednesday just 60 miles southeast of Montauk Point, Long Island, little more than 100 miles from New York harbor.

Methodical Attack

Navy officers told the story of a deliberate, methodical attack in which the submarine first discharged a torpedo into the port side of the fuel-oil laden tanker, swung about and fired another torpedo into the other side, and then returned to send a final "finish" into the port side of the stricken vessel.

Admiral Kalbfus identified the two dead men as Kaare Reinertsen and Ecol Drenseth, both apparently Norwegians, as were most of those rescued. None was an American citizen.

Some of those picked up by a fleet of rescue and attack vessels that sped out from Newport and the New London naval base after the stricken tanker was spotted by a patrol plane yesterday actually were taken from near freezing water. Others were in lifeboats and six were clinging to a life raft.

The men had been wallowing around in the water for some time in fuel oil," Kalbfus said and explained that there were no interviews with survivors because the first concern was their health and comfort. "I wanted to make them as comfortable as possible."

However, all but two or three would be released from the hospital at Newport shortly, he predicted.

The rescuers reported, he said, that they left the tanker still afloat, its position almost vertical, and its bow rising from the water almost 50 feet into the air.

Second Recent Attack

It was the second attack in nearby North Atlantic waters in as many days. A large steamer, presumably British, was torpedoed 160 miles off Nova Scotia Tuesday with a reported loss of some 90 lives.

Yesterday's attack may have instituted a concerted close-to-home campaign to disrupt U.S. supply lines along the pattern of Malaya and the Sunda Islands, the latter being the scene of the recent Japanese invasion.

From May through September of 1918 more than 20 steamers and sailing craft were sunk by German torpedoes off the North Atlantic coast, six in one day. But the long-distance raiders failed to achieve their objective.

Although Navy Secretary Frank Knox reported December 21 that hostile submarines were active off both the east and west coasts, the attack upon the Norness was the closest to the vital New York-Philadelphia maritime zone to be announced.

A half dozen incidents have been recorded off the west coast. The freighter Lahaina and the tanker Emidio were sunk by Japanese fire in the first two weeks of the Pacific war.

yet to experience major air assaults in the London or Chungking patterns. The Japanese, however, used nearly 200 planes over Singapore on Monday and Tuesday.

Official reports placed the casualty toll for the two days at 67 with correspondingly small material damage.

Relays of British and Dutch fighters battled Japanese air raiders over Singapore for an extended period this morning in a grim game of hide and seek in rain clouds which swept across the island.

Through a rift, I saw a mele of planes dividing, twisting and sideslipping, and heard muffled machine-gun bursts. The rain squalls veiled distant action.

A few minutes later I saw one plane plummet through a cloud toward the earth.

The drone of motors in the clouds occasionally was punctuated by anti-aircraft fire. Toward the end of the air raid alarm I saw an explosion of one stick of bombs in the distance.

Bombing At Naval Base

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Jan. 15.—(P)—While Dutch warplanes roared out from their jungle bases today in search of new enemy targets, the Japanese struck a fresh blow in a bombing attack aimed at objectives near the important Netherlands East Indies military and naval base of Amboina.

Amboina, in the Molucca island group between Celebes and New Guinea would be a long reach for the Japanese from Davao, 775 miles north in the Philippines, or from their foothold on northern Borneo. But it is only some 400 miles southeast of the Minahasa peninsula of Celebes, where the Japanese also have made landings.

Enlisted men are eligible for the three-months officer schools after four months in a replacement training center, or six months with a unit in the field, and leadership qualities are stressed above formal education.

(A Japanese communiqué, as broadcast from Tokyo, reported air attacks on Amboina as well as on New Guinea and New Britain, in Australia's Bismarck archipelago.

Nelson Has Other Relatives Here

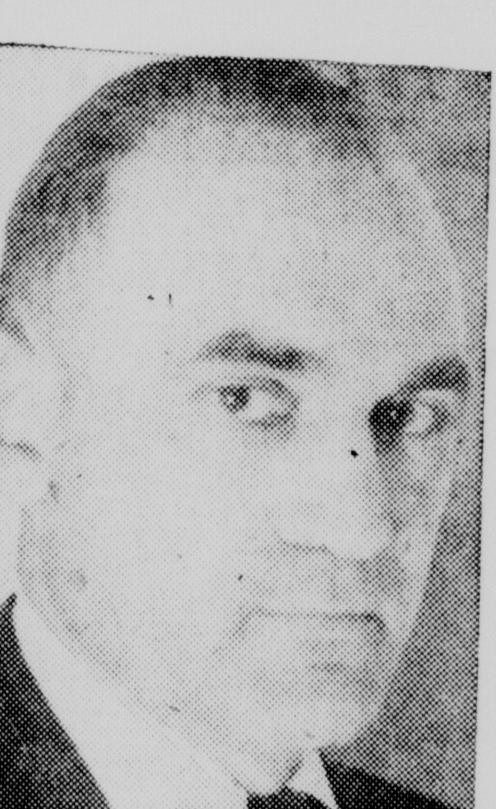

Donald M. Nelson, new chief of wartime procurement and production, appointed Tuesday night by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is not only a nephew of N. L. Nelson, of Sedalia, but also has other relatives living here, relatives of his late wife, who was Miss Estelle Land of Slater.

Miss Mary Chloris Nelson and brother, Howard Nelson, 410 East Seventh street, are son and daughter of the late A. M. Nelson, who was a cousin of the late Mrs. Donald Nelson's mother, Mrs. Mary Chloris Spencer Land.

Donald Nelson of Hannibal and Estelle Land of Slater, were students at the University of Missouri, when they became acquainted. They were later married. Mrs. Nelson died about 1921 and their child died that same year.

Miss Nelson, of this city, was named for the late Mrs. Nelson's mother.

Loan Company In Election Of Officers

Stockholders of the Sedalia Industrial Loan and Investment Company held their annual meeting Tuesday and learned they had had one of the biggest and most successful years in the history of the organization, which was established in 1924.

The following directors were elected: L. H. Archias, W. H. Cloney, D. H. Dean, Claude L. Boul, Harold F. Dean, A. W. Klang, L. H. Archias, Jr., D. S. Lamm and John Z. Montgomery.

The directors met and elected the following officers: President, L. H. Archias; vice president, W. H. Cloney; secretary-treasurer-manager, Claud L. Boul.

sions too, their relationship is not through the Nelsons, but the Lands.

Offers Plan To Aid Agriculture

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15—(P)— Asserting that the present years of plenty likely would be followed by severe lean years for the farmer after the war, Gordon B. Nance of the Missouri College of Agriculture has suggested a six-point plan to assist agriculture. Writing in the agriculture marketing service's monthly bulletin, Gordon proposed:

1. Increasing the production of those products that are likely to continue relatively high in price. Included are the "foods for freedom."

2. Increasing production for farm and family needs.

3. Purchasing now those things that must be bought within the next two years.

4. Avoiding purchases at high prices of what will not be paid for during the period of high prices.

5. Refinancing now, on long-time terms, any debts that may not be paid off during the period of high prices.

6. Making every business decision with a view toward attaining the best possible position to endure the aftermath of the war.

"The last post-war period wrecked the lives, shattered the morale, and extinguished the hopes of more people than did the entire war that was responsible for it," he wrote.

Miss Daren Wheat Likes Work In Washington

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Decker, 1421 South Ohio avenue, have received word from Miss Daren Wheat, who attended Central Business college here, and resided at their home, that she had arrived in Washington, D. C., and has employment in the War Department. She likes her work, she states, and also the city of Washington.

Wells Confers With Guinazu

By JOHN McKNIGHT
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Jan. 15.—(P)—Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles of the United States and Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu of Argentina consulted for 25 minutes today and success or failure of the Pan-American conference at hand may have been bound up in that meeting.

The two men in the Argentine's hotel room and, leaving the place separately, they withheld precise comment on their talk. Argentina has shown signs of holding out against any general Pan American breach of relations with the axis.

Welles left Ruiz Guinazu's hotel room smiling. He said he had had a cordial and pleasant conversation with my old friend, the foreign minister of Argentina."

Welles and Ruiz Guinazu are the heads of their nation's delegations to the third consultative conference of foreign ministers of the Pan American Republics. Their talk was in the nature of a preliminary consultation.

Oswaldo Aranha, Brazilian foreign minister, presided at a preliminary session.

"In the hour of risk and danger, individuals the same as states may know who are their real friends," Aranha told the press. "I am sure the attack on America will show the world its people not merely friends but brothers."

"All that I can say now," Stimson said, "is that he decided, with our approval, to devote his time for the present to a technical commercial project in which this department is directly interested. I think that covers all that can be said at this time."

impose sentence later.

The death sentence imposed on Conway by the jury marked the second time in 30 years that the extreme penalty had been assessed in Clinton county. The state charged Curd was killed October 25, 1939 resisting a robbery attempt at a filling station on federal highway 169.

Stephens and Conway, both former residents of Bartlesville, Okla., were charged jointly but Stephens had asked a separate trial. Both are serving four year sentences at the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas., for violation of the national motor vehicle theft act.

At Conway's trial, the state's evidence was based principally on fingerprints and ballistics. Defense attorneys, named by the court, presented no testimony but contended the state's circumstantial evidence was insufficient for conviction.

Sentence Killer To Gas Chamber

PLATTSBURG, Mo., Jan. 15.—

(P)—A day after a fellow federal convict had been sentenced to death for the crime, Don Stephens, 24, pleaded guilty today to a first degree murder charge in the 1939 slaying of Cecil Curd, a filling station attendant near Gower, Mo.

Stephens changed his plea of innocent he had made earlier after Kenneth D. Conway, 26, was convicted by a circuit court jury yesterday and sentenced to death in the Missouri prison gas chamber.

Before he changed the plea, Circuit Judge R. B. Bridgeman told Stephens that under the law one of two penalties—death or life imprisonment—was mandatory.

Judge Bridgeman said he would

Oak Point Club Has Social Hour

The Oak Point Extension club met with Mrs. J. E. Pittman. A basket dinner was served at noon.

This KING of All Cough Mixtures

Acts Like A Flash

The KING of all cough medicines—Buckley's CANADOL Mixture—has been used for years in over 70% of Canada's homes. Fast working, triple acting Buckley's Mixture quickly loosens and raises phlegm lodged in the tubes and clears air passages—soothes raw, rasping throat—coughs or two sips and worst coughing spasms cease. You get results fast. You feel the effects of Buckley's instantly.

Compounded from rare Canadian Pine Balsam and other soothing healing ingredients Buckley's CANADOL Mixture is different from anything you ever tried. Do get a bottle of great Canadian cough medicine today at Star, McFarland-Robinson or any good drug store on our standing guarantee of satisfaction or money back.—Adv.

Mrs. Artie McNutt called the meeting to order and after the business session a social hour was enjoyed.

It was voted to change the meeting date from the first Friday to the second Friday of the month. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. L. and Mrs. E. E. Rhine, February 13, in an all day meeting.

The club members and Miss Dorothy Bacon met Friday at the home of Mrs. R. S. Taylor to can meat, but owing to the extreme cold weather, very little canning was done as the meat was frozen.

Mrs. Norman Gibson, 4-H club sponsor, had a call meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. Pauline Carrell January 13, to line up the other 4-H club for the coming year.

Many Never Suspect Cause Of Backaches

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

When disorder of the spine or function permits posture to remain the same too long, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or lengthy posture with straining and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Do not wait. Ask your druggist for Dean's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Dean's Pills.

"The Night of January 16th" opening tomorrow at the Fox theatre for two days is the story of a light hearted sailor who inherits a three million dollar share in a giant corporation, finds it has been snatched from him by the crooked head of the company, and who then gets himself involved with a suspected murderer, with romantic and amusing results. Co-starring Robert Preston, as the quick witted ex-gob, and Ellen Drew, as the beautiful secretary accused of murdering her boss to get possession of the fortune he stole from the company, the new film also features Nils Asther, Mar-

• by Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—After three years of probing subversive activities, it takes a lot to excite Rep. Martin Dies, but the other day the rangy Texan hit on a discovery that took his breath away.

His committee has been making a sweeping inquiry of Jap fifth-columnists on the west coast, including subversive teaching in Japanese language schools located all over Southern California. Investigators found that from the primary grades up students in these schools are indoctrinated with militarism and the ideology of their Japanese ancestors.

Primer books, for instance, are filled with pictures of the Japanese flag and soldiers, accounts of the greatness of the Jap navy, and stories with titles like "My Brother Enlisted in the Army."

However, the thing that stunned Dies was a portion of a story titled "Submarines." Although written several years ago, it was a perfect description of the sneak Jap submarine attack at Pearl Harbor.

Printed in both Japanese and English, it read: "It is our duty to go underwater when the enemy's battleships draw near and sink them by shooting torpedoes, and at times to go secretly to the enemy's harbor and attack his battleships without warning."

Murray's Plan
Latest to trot out a plan for reorganization of the sprawling, headless war production setup is CIO President Phil Murray.

He has proposed to President Roosevelt the following: That OPM and its top controlling SPAB board be abolished lock, stock and barrel. That, in their place be appointed a three-man board to have complete authority over the ordering and procuring of all war supplies.

Chairman of the board to be Harry Hopkins, intimate adviser of the president and all-powerful behind-the-scenes figure in matters affecting the war. Executive director of the board and its driving force and expeditor to be Charles E. Sorenson, general superintendent and industrial genius of the Ford organization.

NOTE: Like OPM Director General William Knudsen, Sorenson was born in Denmark, came to the U.S. as a child and worked his way up from a day laborer. Labor rates Sorenson the ablest and most liberal big business executive in the country.

U. S.-Canadian Co-operation

On the morning that the State Department issued its famous statement blasting the "so-called" Free French for taking over the tiny North Atlantic islands of St. Pierre-Miquelon, Ray Atherton, chief of the State Department's European division, telephoned to Hume Wrong, counselor of the Canadian legation.

Canada is more concerned with the two French islands than any other country because they are nearest her shores; so Atherton read to Canadian Counselor Wrong the statement blasting the Free French.

"What do you think of it?" he asked.

"I think it's too strong," replied Wrong, whose government strongly sympathizes with DeGaulle.

"Well we can't change it now," replied Atherton. "It's already been issued to the newspapers."

"Then why did you want to read it to me?" asked Wrong.

The State Department mastermind had no answer.

NOTE: The State Department has been deluged with condemnation for cracking down on the Free French. Some of the most potent criticism has been based upon the fact that we acted without consulting our allies, the Canadians and British, who were equally if not more concerned in the matter than the United States.

Don't Criticize Vichy
Some of the most important questions affecting the American press since 1918 have been under discussion in secret conferences held by the new censor, Byron Price; also by the Office of Facts and Figures under able State, War and Navy.

Upon the outcome of these discussions will depend in a large measure what war news authorities will permit the U.S. press to print. However, criticism of war policies, of war production and of war mistakes supposedly will not come under the jurisdiction of the censors. This has been the general policy laid down by President Roosevelt, who although severely criticized by the press during his first eight years in office, staunchly champions the right of the press to criticize.

In a recent meeting of government officials to discuss censorship, however, the State Department representative proposed that a ban be clamped down on criticism of the State Department's activities and policies. He particularly mentioned criticism aimed at the department's constant appealing of Vichy.

The proposal, however, did get a very cold reception. There was little discussion about the matter at the time. But afterwards, Censor Byron Price confided to colleagues that he did not consider criticism of the State Department as falling in the category of censorable news.

Sneak Movie Probe

Several days ago, Senator D. Worth Clark announced that the sneak movie probe he headed had been abandoned "in the interest of national unity."

But what he did not mention was the fact that this isolationist-propaganda stunt, pulled off by Clark and Senators Burt Wheeler and Gerald Nye, without Senate authorization, is going to cost taxpayers the neat sum of $2,300.

This is the total of the bills incurred by the probe that Clark has quietly slipped the Senate Audit committee for approval so they can be paid.

Chief among the outlays for which taxpayers will be soaked are two bills for $250 each submitted by Hollywood gossip-columnists James Fidler and George Fisher, for expenses covering their trip to Washington to testify against movie concerns. Biggest bill is $1,800 for stenographers employed to record the emanations of John T. Flynn and other hand-picked isolationist witnesses.

Approval of the bills by the audit committee is certain. One reason is that New Hampshire's isolationist Senator Charles Tobey is a ranking member of the committee. Another reason is the Senate's traditional back-scratching. Whatever senators privately may think about one another, publicly they rarely throw brickbats.

NOTE: Clark's committee has never made a report and obviously does not intend to, as no money has been asked for this purpose.

Merry-Go-Round

San Francisco, whose politics-playing Mayor Angelo Rossi is a close friend of Civil Defense Director LaGuardia, is rated by authorities as having the worst managed civil defense set-up in the country. More complaints have been received from the Golden Gate metropolis than any other city . . . Vision In Eyes That See Not Blind persons can see as well as you and I the vision of a free world, a world purged of war and oppression, devoted to the arts of peace.

More than 2,000 pair of such unseeing eyes must be fixed on such a vision these days, for 2,219 men and women in 54 workshops in 27 states are now turning out orders for government goods useful in defense. Quite aside from the fact that through the National Industries for the Blind, these people are enabled to earn their own way, and thus gain personal confidence in the future despite their handicaps, it must be a tremendous stimulus of hope for them to feel that they, too, are enabled to contribute to the effort to win through for freedom. It is a wonderful thing that these people, deprived of physical sight, are not denied a glimpse of the future.

When Necessity Calls

Now, after the complacency with which we exported scrap-iron to Japan for the past several years, we find that some American steel mills are actually on the point of shutting down for lack of scrap-iron.

No use to weep for past folly, no use to gloat, "I told you so!" Here we are, and every pound of scrap metal is badly needed. There's another place where every man can help. Round up all the scrap metal around the place, and get it into the hands of the junkman or scrap collector. Aluminum, copper, brass, iron, steel, paper—don't let any of these things accumulate around the place; put them to use.

So we lack scrap-iron, no matter why. The American way is to go out and get it, and not sit wailing about what we should or should not have done two years ago.

Farm News and Features of Interest to . . .

The Central Missouri Farmer

Labor Economy Is Problem Faced By U. S. Farmers

Supply Of Workers Decreases While Needs Of Heavier Production Increase

Every possible labor economy will have to be called into use by Missouri farmers in the present emergency, says O. R. Johnson of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture in pointing out that getting more work done with a decreasing supply of workers is perhaps the biggest problem confronting farmers today.

Farmers have already been asked to expand their production. At the same time they are expecting to contribute agriculture's share of young men for our military forces. Industries engaged in the production of war materials are bidding for workers at wages entirely beyond those which the majority of farmers can afford to pay, even with prospects for considerably better prices for their farm products.

This means that practices learned in the last war will have to be repeated and expanded. Those farm enterprises which will not permit economies in labor requirements will have to be decreased in magnitude, or at least not expanded unless we are willing to maintain them at a much lower rate of return than that of other enterprises.

Use More Power

The most effective way of increasing the efficiency of man labor is to place more power in the hands of each worker. Each worker will have to drive more horses or have larger mechanical power units and larger implements so that more acres can be covered in an hour. Longer working days will be the rule, and probably older persons and many women will help with field work.

Probably the most effective economy which can be practiced in the handling of livestock will be found in some of the following practices:

Larger herds and flocks per worker; use of self-feeders and automatic waterers; pasturing down crops; moving animals to be fed close to the cribs or bins where feed is stored; use of artificial light in buildings so that feeding can be done after dark; improving facilities for keeping livestock quarters clean and sanitary; being certain that when feed is fed it goes to animals which will return a maximum gain or production for the feed and taking every precaution to increase size of litters or number of young saved.

Difficulty In Wages

With livestock activities, particularly, it is difficult for the farmer to pay the kind of wages asked now or to procure the kind of help which is skillful in handling animals. The field operations and crop activities where large amounts of mechanical power can be provided are more likely to be well done and to justify the wages necessary to procure labor.

Not all the difficulty lies in high wages. Much of it is in the actual unavailability of workers at any wage for the irregular job available on farms. It is this latter type of difficulty which only the farmer and his family can meet.

Defense Theme At Conference

Producing an abundance of food for defense and how balanced farm planning can be used to help meet present problems will be the theme of the annual soils and crops conference to be held in the assembly room of the Pettis County court house, Friday, says J. U. Morris, county extension agent.

The production of an abundance of food for defense will be brought out in the panel discussion during the morning program. Balanced farming means using all resources of a farm without waste. Good land use, pastures and the utilization of crops produced to obtain the most profit along with soil conservation in the production of the products needed in the present emergency—all can be accomplished through balanced farm planning.

Through balanced farm planning the production and utilization of pastures, other crops and livestock are tied closely together in such a manner as to conserve labor, to produce the largest quantity of goods needed and to conserve the soil.

Pettis County USDA War Board Now

Declaration Of Hostilities Brings Change In Name

Declaration of war has brought a change in the name of the county agricultural board. This board, which includes the heads of all Department of Agriculture agencies in the county, has been named the Pettis County USDA War Board. During the past few months of operation it has been labeled the USDA Defense Board.

This and several other announcements were received by B. C. Claycomb, chairman of the county board, in a memorandum from Claude R. Wickard, secretary of agriculture, yesterday.

"The board will function as the county representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in the war effort," Claycomb said. "We will handle problems arising from further expansion of food and fiber, war priorities on materials needed in agriculture, shortages of materials, labor and machinery, and will gather information of vital importance to the wartime effort."

The secretary has asked that each agricultural agency in the county cooperate to the fullest possible extent with the war board. "We have a big job ahead of us," Claycomb stated, "and it is vitally important for us to work together through the war board."

Problems of farmers brought about by the war situation will be handled by the county board, provided they are of an agricultural nature. Each agency of the department will continue its present activities, but in addition will handle a portion of the war responsibilities. These new duties will be assigned by the county war board.

Horse Breeders' Course Planned

The tenth annual Missouri horse and mule breeders short course will be held at the University of Missouri College of Agriculture, January 29 to 30. The meeting will be in charge of Fred P. Schell, president of the Missouri Horse and Mule Breeders' association.

Harry Linn, assistant agricultural commissioner of Iowa, will have a part on the program each day. Known as one of America's leading horsemen, he has demonstrated methods of handling horses over the entire country and believes the horse and mule business fits into an economic agriculture.

At least two Missouri farm users of horses and mules will be on the program, outlining their methods and results. R. S. Clough will discuss the future development of Missouri colt clubs E. A. Trowbridge, T. A. Ewing, E. S. Matteson and J. M. Kays, all of the university staff, will have a part on the program.

With the present priorities and limitations on mechanical power, rubber, gas and oil there has been a great increase in interest in horses and mules, points out E. A. Trowbridge, chairman of the animal husbandry department of the college. This meeting provides an opportunity for a discussion of current events, future possibilities, economic practices and general welfare of the business.

Missouri USDA Defense Board Question Box

Q. Suppose growing conditions are exceptionally good next summer and production exceeds the goals that have been set. How will farmers be protected against surpluses?

A. There is little chance that production of needed products will exceed demand. For example, the need for cheese and evaporated and dried skim milk is so great that demand will be limited only by the amount produced. Furthermore, price-support authorized by Congress will prevent surpluses from depressing prices.

Q. What protection will farmers have against low prices while they increase production to meet the goals that have been set?

A. Recent legislation requires that whenever the Secretary of Agriculture calls for increased production of non-basic agricultural commodities, he shall use available funds to support farm prices of those commodities at 85 per cent of parity.

Q. What farm products have received a price support?

A. The Secretary has put this price assurance into effect for cheese, evaporated milk, dried skim milk, eggs, chicken, and hogs until December 31, 1942. The basic crops such as corn, cotton, wheat, tobacco, and rice will continue to have the support of commodity loans at the 85 percent of parity level.

Q. When the Secretary of Agriculture announced price support at 85 percent of parity for commodities on which expanded production was urged, did he mean that prices would not be permitted to drop below 85 percent of parity at any time?

A. Not exactly. The department will use available funds to see that the prices of such commodities do not average less than 85 percent of parity for the season. It would obviously be impossible to keep the price of each commodity at exactly 85 percent of parity in every locality every single day. Supported prices mean a season's average price for the nation as a whole at about 85 percent of parity. So far the actual prices of commodities designated for minimum price support have been consistently well above the 85 percent of parity level.

Q. Even if the farmer's prices on certain products are supported until December 31, 1942, what protections will he have after that?

A. Congress has authorized the Secretary of Agriculture to provide the support for the commodities for which he asks increased production as long as the emergency continues.

If the emergency and the need for increased production after 1942, the Secretary can extend the price support beyond December 31.

Club Council Plans Year's Program

Members Will Collect Scrap Iron And Paper

The Pettis County 4-H Club council met Monday evening in the Farm Bureau meeting room.

The objectives of club work were discussed and the county program planned for the coming year. Last year's record books were returned to those clubs present. It was decided also to order health yard stick charts for all members.

The council discussed methods by which clubs might make money. It was decided that members collect scrap iron and paper to sell, the proceeds to be used for buying defense bonds and stamps.

Members are being especially urged to participate in foods projects as a part of the defense program. This would include not only producing more and better food products—vegetables, fruits, beef, and pork—but also incorporating these foods in the daily meal in the correct proportions so as to have a more balanced diet.

The requirements of the new projects were discussed. The clothing project now covers five years instead of three. Home Gardens projects have been subdivided into smaller units. Two new projects on Fruits and Strawberries have been added.

The 4-H radio schedule is to go on this year much as usual. Snelser Club volunteered for February 7, Hillview club will broadcast February 21.

The council is looking forward to a very profitable club year with more members and a higher percentage of completion.

The meeting adjourned and games were played. Those attending were: Stella Sperber, Margaret J. Cranfill, Ella Dee Runge, Mrs. Albert Runge, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCoy, Thelma Brunkhorst, Mrs. Frank Summers, Mildred Conrad and Miss Dorothy Bacon.

What To Do For Defense Program

One woman has outlined what she thinks homemakers can do in the defense program. Her outline emphasizes the importance of women in the home for defense. Her six points are:

1. Do your homemaking job better than you have done it before.

2. Make better use of your information on nutrition to give your family maximum health.

3. Be concerned about how much time you spend each day "Housekeeping" as compared to "Homemaking".

4. Make a special effort to see that the health of other children in your community is improved through the use of surplus commodities for the school lunch.

5. Conserve human resources by reducing the number of home accidents and planning household tasks.

6. Take advantage of the opportunity to secure all the information you can from the Extension Office and other resources that will help you do your job better.

Another lady recommends the addition of a seventh point—Volunteer your help for young people's organizations at home.

150 Attend Income Tax Meeting

Collectors Explain Methods Of Filing Returns To Farmers

One hundred and fifty farmers were present at the income tax meeting held in the assembly room of the Pettis County Court House Friday, when R. W. Bosworth and H. B. Steele, deputy internal revenue collectors, explained income tax reporting as it applies to farmers.

The collectors went through the farm schedule, explaining methods of reporting and possible deductions as well as answering many questions. The number of farmers who will have to make out returns this year has been greatly increased, due to the deduction in credit for personal exemption.

According to the revenue officers, farmers may maintain their records and file their returns of income on either the cash receipts and disbursement basis or on the accrual basis of accounting.

Must Be Consistent

A consistent method must, however, be employed. If a cash basis is used, Form 1040F, "Schedule of Farm Income and Expenses," is required to be filled out and filed in conjunction with Form 1040. Use of Form 1040F is optional in the case of farmers who report income on the accrual basis.

A farmer who reports income on the cash receipts and disbursements basis (in which no inventories to determine profits are used) must include in gross income for the taxable year (1) the amount of cash or the value of merchandise or other property received during the taxable year from the sale of livestock or produce which are raised, regardless of when raised; (2) the profits from the sale of any livestock or other items which were purchased; and (3) gross income from all other sources.

Under the accrual basis in which inventories are used to determine the profits, farmers' gross profits are ascertained by adding to the inventory value of livestock and produce on hand at the end of the year the amount received from the sale of livestock or produce, and miscellaneous receipts of income during the year and deducting from this sum the inventory value of livestock and produce on hand at the beginning of the year and the cost of livestock and produce purchased during the year.

This group decided that it would not be necessary for another dramatics committee meeting until the Saturday preceding the contest at which time drawing for places would be made. However, they prefer that entries of plays for the various communities be submitted to the county extension office by February 15 so that they might know what arrangements need to be made for the two nights program.

Livestock Included

All livestock, whether purchased or raised, must be included in inventory at their proper valuation. Livestock acquired for draft, breeding or dairy purposes and not for sale, may be included in the inventory instead of being treated as capital assets subject to depreciation, provided such practice is consistently followed.

If farm produce is exchanged for merchandise, groceries or the like, the market value of the articles received in exchange is to be included in gross income. The value of farm products which are produced by a farmer and consumed by his family does not constitute taxable income. Rents received in crop shares are to be returned as income as of the year in which the crop shares are reduced to money or the equivalent of money. Proceeds of insurance, such as hail and fire insurance on growing crops, are required to be included in gross income.

Loans As Income

Amounts received as loans from the Commodity Credit Corporation may, at the option of the taxpayer, be considered as income and included in gross income for the taxable year in which received.

Frank Armstrong and P. T. O'Brien also spoke briefly, urging the farmers present to support the war effort by investing as much as possible in Defense Bonds.

Well-Clothed

It has been estimated that Americans expend an annual total of $2,000,000,000 on clothes in normal times, with women contributing $1,250,000,000 of this amount.

Livestock Group Meeting Set

Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association and vice-president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will be the principal speaker at the twentieth annual meeting of the Producers Livestock Commission Association, National Stockyards, Illinois, on Thursday, January 22.

Livestockmen of this area are invited to attend this meeting of their cooperative, says H. D. Wright, manager, announcing that the business session will start promptly at 10 a. m., at the Jefferson Hotel, 415 North Twelfth Street, St. Louis.

Annual reports of the president, secretary-treasurer and manager of the organization will also be given at the morning meeting.

The afternoon session will feature an address by Tom Collins, well known philosopher and humorist, who will speak on "Successful Worry." Stockmen who have shipped consistently to the cooperative for the past 20 years will be honored.

Two directors are to be elected by the Producer Board, and an open discussion of livestock topics will be carried on. Many prominent officials connected with livestock marketing and production are expected to be in attendance.

The gilts received by the boys are gilts. They will be required to follow good care, feed and management practices in further developing their gilts and raising their litters. Out of the first litter, each of these boys will return to the Rotary Club two gilts from each of their litters and these gilts in return will be distributed to additional boys for their 4-H Sow and Litter Project next year. Upon turning over to the Rotary Club their two gilts out of the first litter, the boys receiving gilts this year acquire full ownership of their original gilts.

Committees were appointed to take care of arrangements.

Entries in the Play Writing contest were encouraged to be submitted to the county office by February 15 in order that they might be judged and awards made at the county dramatics event. Committees were appointed to be submitted to the county office by February 15 in order that they might be judged and awards made at the county dramatics event.

Each boy that received a gilt and his father expressed their appreciation of having an opportunity to secure breeding stock of this kind and emphasized their willingness to do the best job possible in order to produce some outstanding litters next summer.

Produce Best Milk Possible

In addition to producing more milk as a part of the food required for war needs, now is the time for dairy farmers to take extra pains to produce the cleanest, highest quality, and most nutritious food product that can be obtained points out M. J. Regan of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

Milk producers in Missouri, large and small, are called upon for help in this emergency. The price of milk products is such that even the smallest producer can afford to purchase the right kind of equipment to give milk and milk products the proper care. It is his patriotic duty to do this.

FOOD MARKET

Advice

Husbands rush home at night because of the savory odors they know are emanating from the kitchen. With the advent of real winter over much of the country, dinner looms larger in the mind of the male and he undoubtedly will hurry an extra bit. This suggests two things the homemaker should do: warn him against such undue hurry that he slips on the ice and prepare such solid, comforting dinners that he won't be disappointed.

The housewife's job is made a wee bit more difficult this week by the report that wholesale prices of beef, veal and poultry are trending upward, although prices generally remain reasonable. Pork prices, it is reassuring to note, remain unchanged at reasonable low.

Featured at the meat counters of the largest grocery chain this week are boneless chuck pot roast, porterhouse, and sirloin steaks, plate beef, lamb leg and loin chops and pork chops and loins.

Eggs remain plentiful, despite the cold weather that cut production somewhat in the middle west, and prices are unchanged. Fresh fryers enter the starred list at the chain store counters with the supply listed as "plentiful" and the price listed as "low."

Vegetable counters continue their colorful displays, with broccoli, new white cabbage, cauliflower, carrots, beets, potatoes and spinach featured as good buys. New supplies of celery are arriving from California. Green beans and onions are higher. Still reasonable in price and plentiful are eggplant, greens, lettuce, peas, peppers, squash and turnips. Rutabagas remain low.

Those invaluable citrus fruits, oranges and grapefruit, are starred with oranges actually cheaper this week.

Based on the best buys of the week, here is a suggested menu for your next Sunday dinner:

Create of Spinach Soup
Roast Loin of Pork
Mashed Turnips
Kidney Bean Salad
Bread and Butter
Date Dessert Loaf
Coffee or Milk

Chocolate Molasses Taffy (Makes 5 Dozen 1-Inch Pieces)
One cup brown sugar, firmly packed, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup corn syrup, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup water, 1 cup molasses, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter, 4 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted. 1 tablespoon vanilla. Combine sugar, corn syrup, water, molasses, salt and butter. Place over low flame and stir constantly until mixture boils. Continue boiling until a small amount of syrup becomes brittle in cold water (290 F.), stirring frequently to prevent scorching.

Pour on greased platter or marble slab. Pour chocolate over candy.

As candy cools on edges, fold edges toward center with spatula; add vanilla and continue folding until candy is cool enough to handle. Pull until cold. Stretch out in long rope and cut with scissors in pieces of desired size.

The tusks of elephants are regular teeth and are not shed.

A body weighing 100 pounds on earth would weigh only 38 on Mars and 82 on Venus.

Toast split cinnamon doughnuts and serve with eggs and bacon.

Fig, Date, Nut Balls

(Makes 3 Dozen Balls)

One-half cup ground dried figs, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup ground dates, 1 cup ground nut meats, dash of salt, 4 ten—about $\frac{3}{4}$ inch in diameter. Roll spoons lemon juice, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon powdered sugar.

Orange Sugar Twists

(About 3 Dozen Yield)

Two cakes compressed yeast, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup lukewarm water, 1 cup milk, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter or margarine, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, beaten; about 5 cups sifted enriched flour.

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add butter, sugar, and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add flour to make a thick batter. Add yeast, and eggs. Beat well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise until doubled in bulk.

When light, punch down. Pinch off portions of dough and roll under hand to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch thickness and 8 inches in length. Fold, roll back on itself, twisting ends around each other. Pinch ends together to seal. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Roll in orange sugar just before baking. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

Orange Sugar

One cup granulated sugar, grated rind of 1 orange.

Mix together and let stand in tightly closed jar several hours or over night.

Here's a delicious and wholesome breakfast bread. It will make a perfect surprise for your neighbor.

Petits Fours With Honey

One-half pound honey, $\frac{3}{4}$ pound sweet butter, $1\frac{1}{2}$ pounds brown sugar, 1 pound shelled almonds, 7 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, grated rind of lemon, a little cinnamon and some extract of orange flower water.

Place the almonds (which should be previously soaked in very hot water for 15 minutes and then dried with a cloth) in center of flour which has been sifted with baking powder. Add grated lemon rind, cinnamon and extract of orange flower water. Melt honey, butter and sugar over low heat and add to flour mixture, using a wooden spatula or spoon. When well mixed, flatten to a thickness of $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches and when cold, cut into small square slices about $\frac{1}{4}$ inch thick. Bake on lightly buttered pan in moderate oven.

Special attention was given to piano and chamber music in the second of the "From Song to Symphony" program study series at the regular meeting of the Helen G. Steele Music club Wednesday afternoon at the Heard Memorial clubhouse, under the direction of Mrs. J. M. Rodeman and Mrs. Raymond Peterson.

Narrating the program, Mrs. Henry Salveter explained the ancestors and origin of "chamber" music. She told of Haydn's early compositions and related his fame as father of the chamber music.

Opening the chamber music division of the program, Mrs. Rodeman, violinist, Miss Muriel Bronson, cellist, and Mrs. Peterson, pianist, played three numbers, including "Hungarian Dance No. 5" by Brahms and a Mozart minuet from "Don Juan." Singular clarity of rendition marked the group who gave to the selection unified interpretation.

Mrs. Salveter, tracing the evolution of piano and pianoforte styles, described the slowness of musical exploration until the seventeenth century, when music came into its own and through voices and instruments demonstrated its increasing popularity.

Illustrating the sketches of early composers for piano, Miss Mabel DeWitt played a Bach Prelude and "Waltz in E Minor" by Chopin.

Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Rodeman and Miss Bronson played Saint-Saens' "The Swan," and a descriptive modern composition, "March of the Tin Soldiers" by Pierne, which was unique and refreshing.

"Rubinstein's Kamennoi-Ostrov" was next played as a duo piano selection by Miss Lillian Fox and Mrs. Peterson and the beauty of melody was fulfilled by the duo's performance.

Sarsate's colorful Spanish dance, "Navarro" was played as a violin duet by Mrs. Rodeman and Abe Rosenthal, with Mrs. Peterson at the piano.

A piano quartet, composed of Mrs. Ralph Guenther, Mrs. Charles Patterson, Miss Thelma Young and Mrs. W. I. Thomas, played "Turkish March" by Beethoven.

Three selections, "Go Down Moses," a Negro spiritual; "Bon Soir" by Debussy and "Czardas" by Monti, were played by a violin ensemble composed of Mrs. W. F. Steele Jr., Mrs. Ralph Carrel, Mrs. Rodeman, W. B. Hert and Mr. Rosenthal, with Mrs. W. B. Hert at the piano.

Ending the program, Miss De-

Witt and Mrs. Fred Ross, duo pianists, gave accomplished presentations of several Chopin Etudes, "Black Key" and "Butterfly" arranged together by Guy Myer, and the C. Major Etude.

During the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. H. C. Johnson, Mrs. Dan Carr was appointed defense representative, and she explained the need for contributions to the U. S. O. departments for recreational facilities in army cantonments.

It was announced that the National Federation of Music clubs with which the local club is affiliated, will sponsor a nationwide search for stringed instrument performers, offering three scholarships to the Berkshire Music Center, Lenox, Mass., to winners of a national contest.

State contests will be held between February 1 and 15; districts between February 20 and March 6 and the national finals in New York March 13 and in Chicago March 28. The contest is open to native-born or naturalized Americans between the ages of 17 and 30 years.

Initial plans to give a Red Cross show in February were made by members of the "Eat and Run" club at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Jean Lucas, 117 East Broadway.

Markie Walker, vice president, was elected president to take the place of Margaret Liming, who moved with her parents last week to Mulvane, Kas., and Jean Lucas was named the new vice president.

The hostess' mother, Mrs. John Lucas, assisted in entertaining the group.

The Priscilla club will meet at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alfred Lamm, 909 West Tenth street.

Nature Knights Is Helpful Conservation Organization

One of Pettis county's busiest and most helpful organizations during 1941 was the group of school children who call themselves the "Nature Knights," and followed a program outlined by the state conservation commission throughout the year.

Wildlife havens of at least one acre in area, fenced and developed with varied plantings, have been established by 763 boys and girls working for Nature Knight awards. Small bird havens were established in 520 school yards by children working in groups miles. They also have planted rod-square food patches on 1,047 separate twenty-acre areas and set out 23,893 trees.

Other Activities

Other conservation activities reported include the erection of 7,266 bird houses that were occupied by nesting birds; 31,931 posters made and displayed; 2,503 natural museums started; 569 school exhibits; 5,727 farm surveys; 3,149 creek explorations and 270 wildlife surveys made in company with conservation agents. All activities were supervised by teachers or other adult leaders.

A total of 4,290 Missouri children won Nature Knights awards since the junior conservation program was started in 1939. During the current school year the groups are active in the majority of counties in the state and outstanding in the rate of achievement is the Pettis county club.

Wounded Anxious To Take Up Fight Where Left Off

WOUNDED—DC 24 Italics SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—(P)—Death reached from the sky at these men—and missed. But it came close. Too close.

It taught them the sharp agony of bullets and of bombs splintering against human flesh. It left them torn and burned. More than that, it angered them because it took their buddies in the Pearl Harbor attack of December 7.

Today, lying in a bay area naval hospital in orderly rows of beds, passing the hours with books, magazines and radios, they live for one moment—when they can take up the fight where they dropped it before they really had a chance to get started.

"I am going to get back the as soon as I can," said Lieut. John J. McCormack, Jr., 29, of New York City.

"I can't get back there fast enough," declared E. J. Brumley, 20, of Edinburg, Texas.

"You couldn't ask for better patients," said Lieut. Commander W. E. Walsh, chief of surgical service, to newsmen who were permitted by the Navy yesterday for the first time to interview the wounded officers and men.

The wounded smile as they told

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen mucus, to germ laden phlegm and aid nature to remove and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly relieves the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)
